Warning

Don't be misled by false statements. Calomel, salts, mineral waters, oils, laxitive pills and drugs have no effect whatever on the liver or its production of bile. The truth of this statement can be proved by consulting the authoritative medical textbooks published during the last five years.
There are only two known instances where salts actually stimulate a torpid or sluggish liver to clean and purify itself by increasing production of bile. Sargon Blue Mass Pills contain both of these two substances, and no other advertised medicine on the American market today does contain them.—(adv.)

Father DARKLEAF'S Column

BY C.H.R.

We won't call names—but a certain lady in Appomattox has always been a great admirer of Herbert Hoover. Saturday she gathered with her family to hear the inauguration. A wonderful speech came over the air. She thought it was Hoover speaking and smiled and nodded approval. When it was done, she commented upon the shame that such a great man was leaving the White House. Then she found out—that she had just listened to Roosevelt's inaugural address!

* * *

Father Darkleaf was caught Monday morning with $8.32 in actual cash. Claude Smith had two-bits in cash. Joel Flood says he had less than that in actual cash at one time Saturday when checks couldn't be cashed in Washington. But even John D. Rockefellow ran out of dimes by Monday night—so we all took it with a smile.

* * *

Just now, I've got a big silver dollar made in 1889 that I'm hoarding!

* * *

Pahaw! This is no panic. "Business as usual" we say. Read this wonderful article by Col. Hodges on page 3—and you'll lose the blues in case you have them.

* * *

Hearing folks this week talking about the panic of 1907, I got out the files of this paper last night and read through every issue of that year. 'Capi 'Buck' Clement hadn't seen fit to write that there was and so saw virtually nothing to inform us how Appomattox and Buckingham took those days. Yet, knowing the people in this section as I do, I venture to say that things went on pretty much as usual and "Capt. Buck" hadn't wailed a lot, because there was not a lot to wail about. That's the Appomattox and Buckingham spirit.

* * *

"Brother, can you spare a dime?"

* * *

Oh well, we turned out over 21,000 impressions from our presses last week—and there'll be more than that out this week ere wash night.

BENT CREEK

BENT CREEK, Mar. 8—We regret to see the R. F. C. work discontinued on the road leading from here on into Buckingham county.

Forty-five answered to the roll call Monday morning. Capt. Garber has made splendid progress on this project of road. We hope in the near future to see the state take it over and then we will call it 30'. We also hope that something will turn up to give the unemployed work. Though wages were small, regular work would help this county more than anything else now.

The floor is being put in the bridge across James River. That is delaying traffic. Still it we could only remember back to the old ferry boat days, when the water was low sometimes the boat would hang on a rock and stay there for 4 or 5 hours.

The family of W. W. Thornhill are all sick. He is rural carrier from this office. His substitute has been on duty for the last two days. We hope they will soon be out again.

Mrs. C. D. McCormick is slowly improving. She has been ill for several months.

The closing of the banks have caused much talk.

James Langran, Mrs. George F. Langran and Mrs. J. R. Marks spent Tuesday in Lynchburg.

Miss Florence Marks and Mrs. R. C. Hounsel are visiting in the home of Mrs. W. D. Tredell this week.

Jim Lucado, of Appomattox, is now located at the Bent Creek village.

Ends Work

R. F. C. road relief work came to a close in this county this week, after approximately $27,000 had been disbursed.

The pay-roll from February 27 to March 4 was $4,170.61, the largest of the entire period. The balance for use this week was $1,029.31—taking no two days work.

This work has been under the direction of J. H. O'Brien as special chairman and road engineer S. V. Munsey. The management and organization has clicked without a flaw and the county is very grateful to these men and their assistants for their skilled handling of a difficult job.

Card of Appreciation

In behalf of the members of Appomattox Agricultural Advisory Board, Mr. Hudgins wishes to express their appreciation to Miss Abbitt and her class of Home Economics girls for the splendid dinner, so well served at the cottage on February 22.

Farm Loans Are Now Available, County Agents Announce

Hudgins and Ellis Ready To Help In Filling Out Applications For Loan

County Agents R. B. Hudgins and R. G. Ellis are ready to receive applications for new federal farm loans. Last night Mr. Hudgins stated:

"All preliminaries are completed and I am now equipped to take care of applications for federal loans for the 1933 crop production.

"Loans may be used only for crop production, and require the borrower to reduce his acreage of cash crop 30% under last year unless he does not intend to plant more than 2½ acres of tobacco, 20 acres of corn, 5 acres of truck crops, 8 acres of potatoes.

"No loans for crop production will be made to any applicant in excess of $300, nor less than $25, and the amount of each loan will be multiples of five dollars.

"All tenants making applications must bring his landlord with him when applying for loan. This will save time, as it cannot be done otherwise.

"I will be in my office Monday and Tuesday of next week and very week thereafter Monday, Tuesday and Saturday. To apply any other days during the week will be loss of time.

"No application will be considered unless the borrower agrees to plant a year-round garden for home use and plant sufficient acreage of feed crops to supply livestock."

Tobacco Contest

Due to having received so many entries at the last minute and desire to compute averages carefully, winners in the tobacco contest will not be announced until next week's paper. Virtually all tobacco has been sold and many farmers waited until the last sales to send in their tickets. In the meantime, entries will be received up through Saturday, March 11. Over $40 worth of merchandise FREE, awaits the "tobacco kings" of Appomattox this year.

94 Years Old

Mrs. Pauline M. Evans is celebrating her ninety-fourth birthday today. She is the mother of eight living children, fifty-five grandchildren, seventy great grandchildren, and ten great great grandchildren. She is quite active and still makes home-made quilts. This remarkable lady is the mother of Mrs. W. L. Brown, of this place.

Whatta Lemon!

Regardless of depression, the Times-Virginian can vouch for a boom in the lemon business.

R. A. Steffans recently came up from Florida with a load of fruits, and from his load there came to our office a huge lemon, weighing no less than a pound and fourteen ounces. It is approximately seven inches in diameter . . . a man-sized lemon.

Tobacco Farmers Gather

An important meeting of tobacco growers will be held at the court house Saturday at 2:30 P. M.

M. K. Green, well known locally as a successful farm leader, will be among the speakers, according to announcement of R. W. Wilkins and Clarence Moore.

Mr. Moore requests a full attendance at this meeting as important facts concerning the Dark Fired Tobacco Growers Association will be discussed.

Court House News

At a hearing before Judge W. L. Brown Friday two more men were sent on to the grand jury in connection with capture of a still near Stonewall last week by Officers Hamp Steele and Allen Farmer; Phillip Rollins, James and George Woodson have been sent on so far. Ben Effland is also being held following a shooting affair at Pamplin Saturday, February 25.

Four wedding licenses were issued at the clerk's office here since last week's issue.

Conrad Moore and Miss Doris Virginia Burks, of Stonewall district were issued marriage license last week and were married in Lynchburg.

James Henry Fiesbman, of near Appomattox and Miss Ella Virginia Howerton, of Sprout Spring, were issued a marriage license Friday and married Saturday by the Rev. G. D. Coffey.

Rev. Coffey also married two colored couples, one Saturday and one Sunday. They were: Moody Samuel Womack and Novella Virginia Sanders and Frank James Hamlet and Ruth Otelia Hastings.

Rename Jones In Buckingham As School Supt.

(Special to Times-Virginian)

Dillwyn, March 7—Plumer F. Jones on yesterday was re-elected superintendent of schools of Buckingham county for a term of four years beginning July 1, 1933, receiving the unanimous vote of the county school board of six members.

Mr. Jones is a graduate of William and Mary College, where he was a student for five years and where he received two degrees. He was editor-in-chief of the William and Mary College Monthly; was head of his chapter of the Kappa Alpha fraternity, and won Phi Beta Kappa. Later he was teacher of languages in Potomac Seminary, W. Va., and principal of the Woodstock (Va.) high school. Still later he joined the staff of the Richmond Dispatch, where he remained for some time. Later visiting and making an intensive study of Ireland for two magazines, Public Opinion and the Review of Reviews, and a number of well known newspapers, including the Pittsburg Dispatch, the Richmond Times-Dispatch, the Providence Journal and others. He is author of 'Shamrock-Land,' an illustrated book on Ireland, published by Moffat, Yard and Co., and of a large number of magazine articles, many of them appearing in the Review of Reviews to which he has been a contributor for many years.

Mr. Jones was superintendent of schools of Buckingham county from 1909 to 1913, and again took charge of the schools in 1926. He has been a consistent advocate and fighter for a state equalization school fund, his article, "The Case of Buckingham County, Virginia," in the University of Virginia News Letter being regarded as one of the opening guns in the campaign for equalization in Virginia.

Birthday Party

Miss Sue Childers celebrated her 18th birthday Saturday, March 4. The dining room was decorated with pink and white. Many of her relatives and friends were present, among them being: Misses Hamner and Madeline Ferguson, Nellie and Beth Hamilton, Elizabeth Robertson, Hazel Coleman, Margaret O'Brien, Hazel Thomas, Edna Chenault, Ruth Bingham and Ina Childers; Bernard Childers, Wilson and Charles Scruggs, Percy and Joseph Thompson, Bennie and Walker Beale, Ben Megginson and David Phelps; Arnold Childers and Mr. Moore, both of Lynchburg, Johnny Carnefix, Walter Robertson, Prentess Bantz, Griver, Clinton and Carrol Childers, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kinney and two children, Charlie and Jeff, Jr., Games and Music were enjoyed by all.

Health Work Report

The physicians in the Southside Health District have reported the following diseases to the health department since January 1, 1933:

Disease	Cases
Influenza	464
Measles	74
Pneumonia	53
Mumps	44
Chickenpox	23
Scarlet Fever	12
Tuberculosis	6
Syphilis	6
Diphtheria	5
Gonorrhea	4
Whooping Cough	3
Tularemia	2
German Measles	2
Typhoid Fever	2
Pallagra	1
Malaria	1
Trachoma	1
Meningitis	1

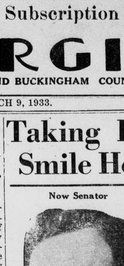
With the exception of pneumonia and meningitis there were probably cases of all these diseases that were not seen by physicians, and not all physicians reported their cases. There were probably almost as many cases of influenza, measles, and whooping cough not seen by physicians as were reported. Neglected cases of these diseases account for the large number cases of pneumonia, and the neglected cases are usually responsible for the spread of the diseases.

It is much safer to have a physicain for all cases of infectious diseases, but whether this is done or not children with fever and signs of cold should be put to bed and receive special care. This would often prevent complications and it would also prevent exposure of other children. School teachers should never try to decide whether or not a child has an infectious disease or the cause of illness in any case, but should send a sick child home before symptoms of any specific disease develop.

W. A. BRUMFIELD, Director,
Southside Health District.

Taking Bank Holiday With A Smile Here; Little Inconvenience

Now Senator



Harry Flood Byrd, former governor, is now United States Senator. He was today made a member of the senate finance, naval affairs and rules committee.

Appomattox Knows Local Affairs Good, May Reopen Tomorrow. Congress Meets

Flood Declares Congress Ready To Act Today

Interviewed in his office here Tuesday, following his return from Washington where he represented the tenth Virginia district in the short term of Congress, Col. Joel W. Flood, expressed the opinion that Congress was right now in the frame of mind to grant what ever authority or legislation President Roosevelt desired.

Col. Flood pointed out that Congressmen often get the darkest picture of national affairs because their constituents appeal to them constantly with their troubles and misfortunes, whereas the normal and even prosperous voters are seldom heard from. Therefore, the congressman sees only a mass of appeals for help and sees the dark side. This fact has reacted to impress upon Congress the need of immediate action and with huge Democratic majorities at their command the leaders will be able to secure whatever legislation Roosevelt wants.

Col. Flood also pointed out that the farm allotment bill was finally passed through the House but was killed in the Senate. He fought valiantly to have tobacco included in the bill and was keenly disappointed at the rejection of the bill by the senate.

Herbert Smith, assistant secretary to Col. Flood, will continue in Washington, having secured appointment as secretary to one of Maine's congressmen.

Roosevelt Acts With Speed To Prevent Large Hoarding

With the entire nation taking a banking holiday, upon proclamation of president Franklin D. Roosevelt, Appomattox county "took it" with a grin this week and hung out a "business and life as usual" sign.

No sooner had the new president taken office than he acted with courageous and prompt force to stem the tide of gold withdrawals in big banks and to make uniform the holiday already declared by many governors.

Local banks received notice of the forced holiday Monday morning and of necessity added cheerfully to the proclamation, although its own condition was unusually sound.

Deposits in local banks are much greater right now than they were a year ago and officials sincerely state that there is not the slightest cause for alarm here. When the forced holiday is lifted, they will reopen and do business in regular manner.

In his proclamation, president Roosevelt cited his authority for his act to the terms acts of Congress passed in 1917.

The proclamation officially ends tonight, but this morning it is predicted that a new proclamation will be issued in time to put certain restrictions on withdrawals. New deposits will be unrestricted.

In Appomattox county, there has been little inconvenience. Most everyone was caught with a minimum of cash on hand and in some cases change was hard to get. But merchants still had cash from their Saturday's sales and were able to make out. In some cases due bills were given. One of the biggest items was the handing of over $4,000 in R. F. C. road checks, in small amounts, issued for last week's road work in the county.

Local bankers and officials desire to impress upon all of their customers that this is a national matter and not a local matter. There was no absolute need for any bank in Virginia to remain closed this week. Virginia is sound and Virginia banks are sound. Governor Pollard agreed to their closing solely due to the national situation and the fact that a holiday was necessary in neighboring states.

Possibility of "script" being issued instead of currency, has been discussed and although the federal treasury will not issue script, there is a chance that some communities and clearing house will issue it. In event they do, it will be honored as currency and will be amply backed by securities.

All in all, a new wave of confidence is in the air. Not since the World War has the American people rallied as a whole to a common cause as they have this week. Everyone, everywhere feels that the real corner has been turned and the "New Deal" is actually under way. A policy of decisive action has replaced watchful waiting. Congress meets in special session today at noon and will give Roosevelt the legislation he feels is needed to start the national upbuilding.

There was never a time in American history when opportunity and initiative were so inviting and it is certain that Saturday, March 4, will be chronicled in history as the death blow to a national depression of four years duration.

School Notes

Vera School News

Walter Payne, Jr, spent the week-end at his home in Pamplin.

Miss Betty Morris and Miss Edythe Martin visited in Lynchburg Saturday.

Miss Edythe Martin celebrated her birthday Tuesday.

Monday, Helen Fay Turnes entertained a few of her friends at her home where she celebrated her ninth birthday.

Evening Worship 7:30. Short sermon by the pastor.

A series of revival services will be held in this church, beginning Palm Sunday and concluding Easter Sunday, April 9-16.

Remember the services here are never slow, they never "drag", we do not hurry through, but we do not kill time.

If you are not loyal to your church you are not keeping your word, for you promised to be loyal when you joined the church. THINK THIS OVER.

To Give Program

Holland R. Wilkinson, "The Singing Evangelist" of Richmond, will present a program of Songs and things you like to hear at the Auditorium here Thursday, March 16, at 8 P. M. A good many of you have heard Mr. Wilkinson over the Radio in "The Sunshine Hour" which is a daily feature over Radio Station WRVA. Now is your chance to see and hear him in person.

Mr. Wilkinson comes to Appomattox under the auspices of the Womans Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church. Come out and hear the "Sunshine Hour" man.
